READY TO FLY STUDENTS
2022–24 Batch

1. Introduction

The Ready to Fly Club was initiated to provide focused academic support, mentoring, motivation, and remedial interventions to student-teachers who required additional academic assistance. The initiative aims to identify students at the entry level, monitor their academic progress, address learning and examination-related difficulties, and support them in improving their academic performance.

For the 2022–24 B.Ed. batch, students were identified at the F.Y. B.Ed. level based on their graduation performance. A systematic support mechanism comprising expert lectures, mentoring, interaction meetings, examination preparation, revision, remedial sessions, and peer interaction was implemented. Their academic performance was subsequently monitored to assess progression from F.Y. to S.Y. B.Ed.

2. Objectives

1. To identify and support students requiring academic assistance through systematic mentoring, remedial teaching, and examination-oriented interventions.
 2. To monitor students' academic progression and provide timely guidance and support to improve their performance throughout the B.Ed. programme.

9. Overall Outcome

The Ready to Fly initiative for the 2022–24 B.Ed. batch provided a structured mechanism for identifying students requiring academic support and monitoring their progress throughout the programme. The intervention combined academic guidance, remedial teaching, mentoring, motivation, examination preparation, revision, and peer interaction.

At the F.Y. B.Ed. level, 24 out of 26 identified students showed academic progression, indicating the positive impact of sustained academic support. At the S.Y. B.Ed. level, 4 out of 7 students showed further academic progression after targeted remedial and mentoring interventions.

The initiative thus contributed to early identification of academically vulnerable students, continuous monitoring, individualized support, and improvement in academic performance, while ensuring that students received multiple opportunities to overcome their learning and examination-related difficulties.

Overall, the Ready to Fly initiative reflects the institution's commitment to inclusive academic support, student progression, and continuous improvement in teacher education.
